One of Leawood’s last remaining undeveloped areas is on either side of 135th Street, between Nall Avenue and State Line Road. To establish a vision for the continued development and completion of improvements in this area, the City is beginning the 135th Street Community Plan process.

As part of the planning process the City of Leawood is hosting a public open house August 22 to present some preliminary information that has been gathered thus far and gain feedback concerning the future planning for this part of the City of Leawood.
